Asmira Quality at Every Station We Operate!

At Asmira Marine, we bring our unwavering commitment to safety, cleanliness, and professionalism to every fuel station we manage. To ensure top-level service, we implement the following practices:

- Fuel hoses are carefully inspected for potential leaks and replaced whenever necessary.
- Reel systems are fully renewed, and hose lengths are extended to accommodate larger vessels.
- Nozzles are replaced at the start of each season to eliminate the risk of spillage or overflow.

- Fuel tanks are thoroughly cleaned at the beginning of the season to guarantee the highest quality and cleanest fuel service.

- Life jackets are supplied under the supervision of the Occupational Health and Safety unit and undergo regular inspections.

- Staff areas are renovated as needed; gutters, doors, windows, and roof insulation, among other components, are maintained and renewed.

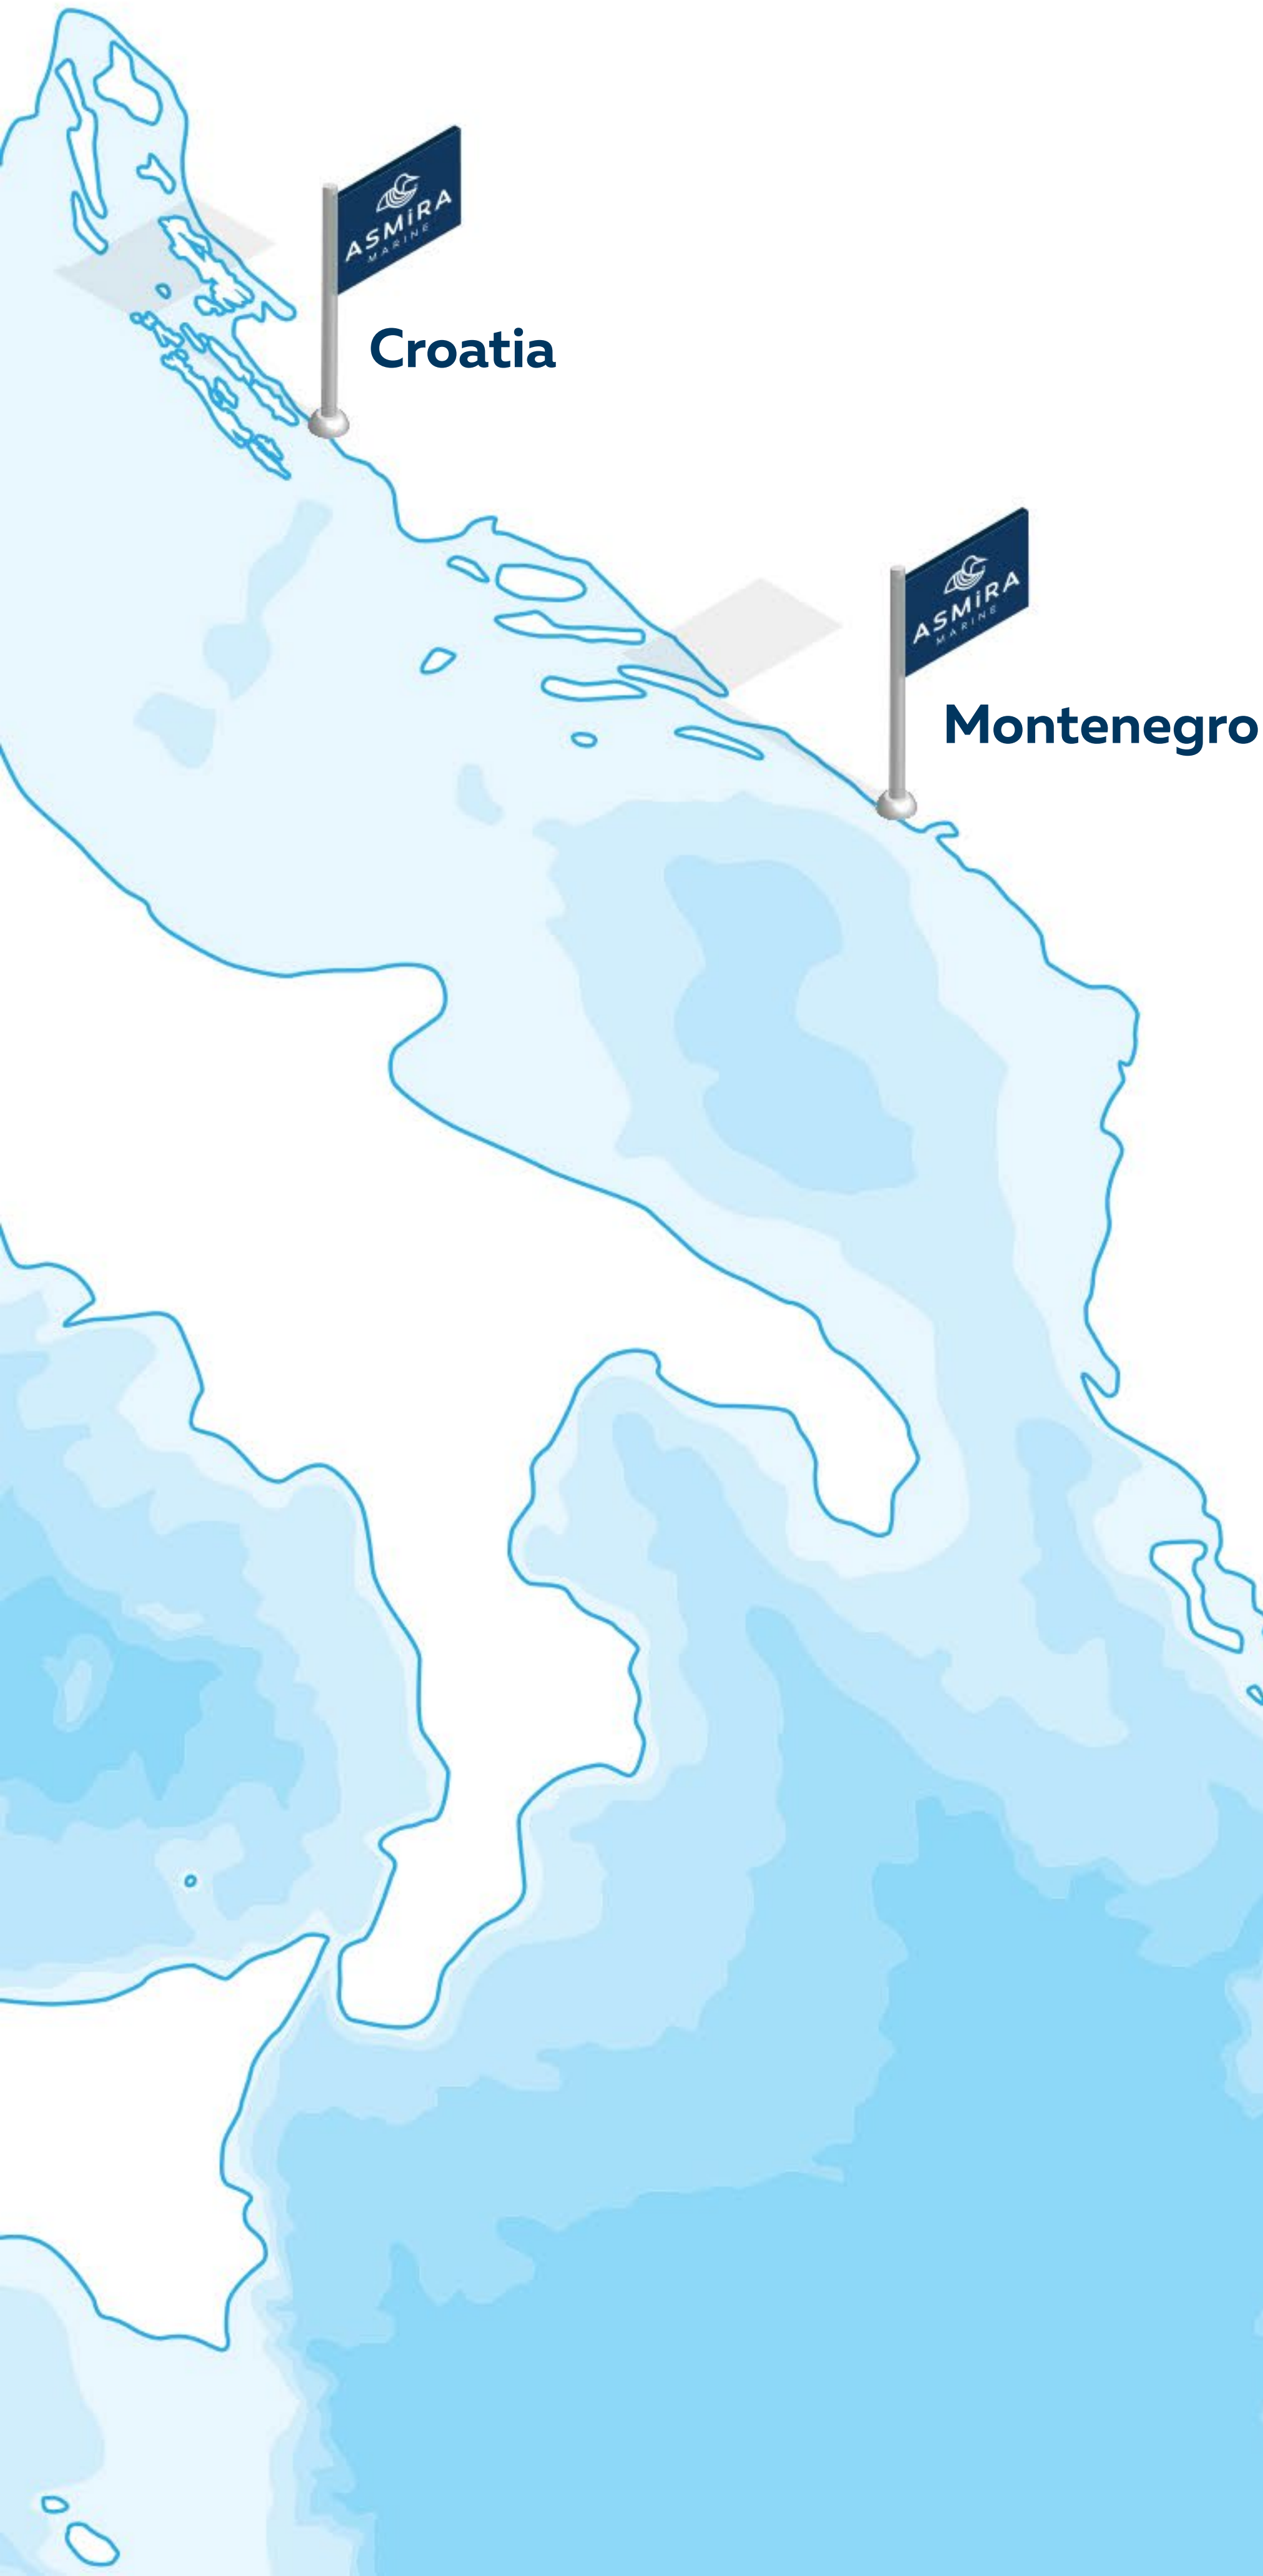

- Guest reception areas are designed in line with our corporate identity.

- Ropes and hose covers are renewed annually. The use of absorbent pads, an exclusive standard at Asmira stations, is strictly implemented.

- During yacht refueling by tanker, safety and environmental protection equipment such as fire extinguishers, hose covers, and sealing materials are employed with Asmira's quality assurance.
